

“I really enjoyed using the STEM room to do some of our Science learning”

Wren class summer term

“I loved the art lessons that we did. I really enjoyed making the prints”

Throughout this term, the children have used historical sources to infer information from Ancient Greek life. They have also studied Ancient Greek beliefs and linked this to their Ancient Rome belief knowledge. In English, the children have thoroughly immersed themselves into the narrative Odysseus and the Cyclops, then creating their own characters and producing outstanding stories. In Science, the children have been learning all about sound and how that sound travels to our ears. They will soon be conducting Science experiments at Tor Bridge to apply their new knowledge. In Art, the children have taken part in National Drawing Day, focusing on texture techniques, still life images and optical illusions. They then had the fantastic opportunity to visit Ocean Studios on Royal William Yard and complete Ancient Greek vase style monoprints.
